

We are the New Zealand University Guide Group and we are pleased to announce the release of our new eBook New Zealand University Guide. We are making this 122-page book available as a free download from: <http://www.nzuniguide.com/ebook>

We are looking to make this eBook available to as many secondary school students as possible in New Zealand and we ask for your assistance in making this content available through your channels. Perhaps there is an online noticeboard or a social media page through which you could make this information available.

NZUGG is made up of committed individuals who have worked for many years in the tertiary education sector. The New Zealand University Guide is written with the school leaver in mind and adopts easy-to-understand language that connects with people of this age group. This will help your Year 13 students plan for next year.
